BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

President Wilson is in the unenviplaced between two fires.

In flaming words ex-Presiden Roosevelt is trying to wither him by fiercely attacking his policy as cowardly and dishonoring our country, declaring that, thanks to Wilson, we have earned the contempt of all nations. Germany is openly defying us, and Wilson does nothing but write more notes, which result in nothing. To arms! To arms.

On the other side is Bryan, our dear old Peace-at-Any-Price Bryan, who is endeavoring to smother our hard-pressed president with vaporous utterings about perennial peace.

Preparedness for war only engenders war, says the leader of the doves of peace. There is more danger in arming ourselyes than in remaining unarmed, unprepared and defenseless. Away with preparedness- We are on good terms with the whole world, and no nation would ever dream of atbags of K. sugar; 5148 of K. K. B. and tacking us. The idea is simply ab-N. sugar, 200 cases of canned pines, surd, ridiculous, preposterous.-Maui Times.
